NOTES AND DOPE ON FOOT BALL

Is There Something in a Coach?
Well I Guess.

That Coach Sweetland has kept up with his past records, as a coach, was proven last Saturday.

When he coached Syracuse, Syracuse beat Colgate and when he coached Colgate, Colgate beat Syracuse. And now what about his last feat? Why dope (if dope counts for anything) shows that we can beat Syracuse, for Illinois, whom we beat 6-2, beat them 17-8, Saturday.

All this proves that there is something in a coach and especially one like ours. Now whether we beat Central, of course the writer does not know now, but then he has his opinions. When this is to be read the game will be on and then we will be convinced that his opinions were right. Most likely the Idea won't be read between halves, but then what's the use when there is something more exciting and you can know actual facts instead of reading previous surmises by a State enthusiast.

The Harvard-Yale game is now over with Yale victorious once more. Cay seems to be a second Ekersoll, who won so many games for Chicago, in '05, by his wonderful drop kicking. Cay is something more than a drop-kicker, he is known to be the hardest man on the gridiron to tackle and is himself a sure tackler.

Michigan, after a great slump in the past few years, has once more come on the field with an almost invincible team.

In fact this year there have been many surprises in the football world.

On account of the death of a West Point player the Army-Navy game has been called off and football fans will miss what is considered by many the greatest treat of all. Some consider it, in many respects, superior to the Yale-Harvard game.

The University of Virginia cancelled all her games this year on account of the death of one of their players, which was due to injuries received in the game with George Washington University, in Washington, D. C. The latter team also cancelled all its games. All lovers of football feel keenly the blow football receives whenever one of these sad casualties occurs.

*"Don't Cheer, Boys:
The Poor Devils Are Dying."*

Hoping they will be few and far between, we now begin to look forward to next year's football season. Until then we enjoy the other forms of inter-collegiate games, which are as interesting but not so exciting.

W. A. O.

Owing to inattention to phone calls and special delivery letters on the part of the Danvillians, the Idea can only give the line up and the following data:

State.	Pos.	Central.
Shanklin	L. E.	Bright
Ellis	L. T.	W. Seelbach
Dunlap	L. G.	Todd
Webb	C.	Chrisman
Earle	R. G.	Simrall
Hendrickson	R. T.	L. Seelbach
Plummer	R. E.	(Capt.) Duffy
Johnston	Q. B.	Frank
Rodes	R. H.	Brownell
Barbee (Capt.)	L. H.	Fox
Threlkeld	F. B.	Ramsey

The Cardinal and Blue men are reputed to out weigh State's men ten or fifteen pounds to the man in the line, but when it comes to the back field, Coach Park's men will show Coach Bank's a few stunts with the pig-skin.

Line Coach Sweetland and Coach Parks of the back-field have worked hard and faithfully with the men and from all indications the team is in the best of condition.

Barbee (Captain) of the team has worked hard and is determined to add digits to the score. This is his last year at State, and it will probably be his last season on the gridiron.

O, rooter on the bleaches
You point point a moral plain;
In life, who wants his side to win,
Must root with might and main!
He doesn't "knock" if luck runs hard,

No "roast" his humor suits.
But always, first, last, all the time—
He roots!

POST SEASON GAME.

STATE—VANDERBILT.

According to an article, which appeared in the Knoxville Sentinel, there will be a post season game played in Louisville between the winners of the State—Central game here, and the Sewanee—Vanderbilt game at Nashville.

The story could not be confirmed, but it appears that there will be no other way of absolutely determining the Southern Championship. We believe that State can beat either Sewanee or Vanderbilt and only hope that she can have a trial.

THE BLUE AND WHITE.

This was contributed by a friend of K. S. U. Let every student get a copy of this and learn it before Thanksgiving Day.

(Tune: "My Bonnie Blue Flag.")

We'll sing a song of Blue and White,
Our colors pure and true,
The colors that the boys all wear,
Who go to K. S. U.
They win for us a noble place
In school or on the field;
They help us win in every race—
They decorate our shield.

Chorus:—

Hurrah! Hurrah!
We'll yell with all our might;
Then give three cheers for K. S. U.
And for the Blue and White.

Our football squad in Blue and White
All others can subdue.
Coach Sweetland taught them how to fight

To honor K. S. U.

Our Gym and Track and Basket-ball
And Baseball boys will show
The way they win their championships
In 1910, you know.

Chorus:—

The students of the University of Texas have decided to establish a student laundry unless the local "sud-slingers" reduce their rates.

BASKET BALL.

We regret that the athletic committee of the Faculty has seen fit to eliminate basket ball for the present year on account of there not being a place to practice.

The news of the action came as a great surprise and shock to the majority of students and there was quite a number who ventured to criticize those who had taken the action, whereby one of the sports dearest to the hearts of all college students, was unceremoniously and deliberately taken away from the biggest institution of the State.

However, after talking with members of the committee, we have been convinced that the criticism was unjust and that the committee was not to blame.

The facts are that the gymnasium is overcrowded as it is, and the team would have no time at all to practice. In order to give them time, it would be necessary to do away with something else and this the committee did not feel at liberty to do.

One of the causes of the overcrowded condition is the fact that the young ladies have equal access as with the male students and occupy the gymnasium at a time when the team could practice.

We believe that the young ladies young ladies have equal access with others, but, if all had the interest of the University at heart, would it not be possible for a part of the work of the girls' gymnasium classes to be done in the gymnasium at Patterson Hall and for the team to try practicing at night?

It has been proposed to floor the armory and to use this as a sub-gymnasium, but no definite action has been taken and it would cost about $500 to do this and some time would be required.

So, at present, it looks as if we will have to cancel our excellent schedule for this season; but let us see that we are provided for next year.

Let us go after the faculty, the trustees, and, if necessary, the Legislature for a new gymnasium. This is almost absolutely necessary and with it the young ladies could have a building to themselves and the young men one likewise. If this can not be done we might get an addition to the present building, which will suffice for a few years.

GET A BASE BALL COACH—YES.

The move that has been started to secure a baseball coach this year is one that should receive the commendation and support of all. Now that it is started every one should do all in his power to push it along and keep it going until it has gone far enough to assure us that we will have a coach for our base ball team, who will be of the very best.

For the benefit of the new men, we will give just a little dope on our base ball teams for the last three years. In 1907, we won the State Inter-collegiate Championships, but Central won two games out of three from us that year. In 1908, the championship was never decided. We won one game from Central and they took one from us. The third was never played, owing to some confusion on the part of the management. We both claimed this game, which decided the championship, but while we were sitting idly, discussing the situation amongst ourselves, Central was publishing a large picture of their team in the Sunday Courier-

Journal, under which was printed in glaring headlines "Inter-collegiate Champions of Kentucky." Naturally the people took this on its face value, and everyone thought the championship belonged to Central. In 1909 Central won every game in the championships series, walking away easily with her games with us.

Central will have equally as strong a team this year as last. We have the material here for a stronger team than the other schools can possibly turn out, but we must have some one to develop this team. Do we want to win the football championship and then turn around and lose in basket ball and base ball? Certainly not. It is now up to us students. Every one get in the game now, push the basket ball movement along and go down in his jeans and fork over every red cent he possibly can and we will have all the championships, as we should.

CLASS BASKET BALL.

With the approach of the basket ball season, the spirit between the Freshmen and Sophomores is again rising, but we are glad to note that the feeling is much more sports-man-like and less harsh than was exhibited at the beginning of the year. Both classes are looking forward with much interest towards the game that will decide the basket ball supremacy of the two classes. The Freshmen have the flag fight on their credit side, while the Sophomores still recall with delight the 10-to-0 score in foot ball.

The Freshmen are boasting of a great team and substantiate their claims with convincing proofs of great work done by some of their men in their Prep. schools. We are acquainted with the material possessed by the Sophomore class and know the class of team they will turn out. So prospects are bright for a great game when the two classes clash in basket ball. The thing for them to do now is to turn out in full force and practice hard for the fast team. It will be the best training for the class game they can get, even if they should not make the first team.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Union Literary Society enjoyed a very interesting lecture from Prof. Mackenzie at its regular meeting, on Saturday night, the subject being "Great Men I Have Met."

The Patterson Society called off their meeting for this date, in order that its members might hear Prof. Mackenzie talk.

These lectures are always greatly enjoyed by all and we only wish it were so we could hear more of them in the future than it has been our good fortune to hear in the past.

An interclass schedule has been arranged for the coed basketball teams of the University of California.

"Coach Bezdek has shown his efficiency by the remarkable advancement in the last two years. The fact that Arkansas has not suffered defeat this season is due mainly to his skill and energy as a trainer. He is popular among his men and the student body and faculty. Bezdek has been coaching Arkansas athletics for two years."

The plans begun some months ago at the University of Notre Dame for the formation of a body of students for the study and practice of aerial navigation are now considered sufficiently matured to be put into practical operation and a permanent organization has been formed. The work done so far has been confined to the building of several engines and the detailed study of the types of flying machines used by the most successful aviators. The biplane has been given the most attention and the machines now in the process of construction are of this type.

Everett C. Brown of Chicago, was elected president of the Amateur Athletic Union at the annual meeting succeeding James E. Sullivan, who had held the office for three years. Mr. Sullivan, who has been secretary in previous years, was chosen secretary-treasurer. He was not a candidate for reelection to the presidency.

Among the many routine matters passed upon at the meeting was the adoption of a new rule designed to protect young athletics from overstraining, in this regulation athletics under sixteen years of age are barred from competing in races exceeding five miles.

The football team of the school has done good work this fall, as did the baseball nine last summer, and Mr. Carnegie is reported as being in a hopeful mood regarding the future of his school in athletics, as well as in studies. It is understood he has ordered plans drawn for the stadium.

ONLY A BROKEN NOSE.

Captain Logan, of the Yale football team, was praising the open play of the last two years.

"Besides being so much more beautiful and interesting to watch," said he, "it is so much less dangerous."

"We don't get bugged up and broken and deformed as we used to do. Why, in the past, a football man's injuries weren't regarded seriously, like another man's. They were regarded as a joke.

"I remember escorting a sub with a broken nose to the surgeon's once.

"It's only a broken nose," the surgeon said, and he laughed heartily. "Only a broken nose. What's that to a footballer? And now how shall we set it—Greek or Roman?"

A HERO.

Tommy's mother had made him a present of a toy shovel and sent him out in the sand to play with his baby brother. "Take care of baby now, Tommy, and don't let anything hurt him," was mamma's parting injunction.

Presently screams of anguish from baby sent the distracted parent flying to the sand lot. "For goodness' sake, Tommy, what has happened to the baby?" said she, trying to soothe the wailing infant.

"There was a naughty fly biting him on the top of his head, and I killed it with the shovel," was the proud reply.—Exchange.

SPORTING NOTES.

Notre Dame has an aviation club. Yale's new swimming pool holds 160,000 gallons of water.

Canadian athletic clubs will form big union in Toronto November 27.

Johnny Evers may be asked to coach the Williams College nine.

Cornell alumni field fund is now $70,000, and an effort will be made to reach the $100,000 by January 1.

Quarter Back Bosley, of St. John's Academy, Annapolis, in a football game on the home grounds against St. Joseph's kicked 10 straight goals after touchdowns. He also made three field goals, scoring 19 of the 60-to-0 score run up by St. John's.

LIBRARY DEDICATION.

The formal dedication of our new library, Wednesday, was one of the most unique and important features of the present college year, and the dedication services in the chapel, followed by the reception given by President Patterson in the library building, in honor of Dr. Henry Prichett, were enjoyed by all who attended.

The addresses of Dr. Prichett, President Patterson and the other speakers of the program, were of a nature that appealed to all who heard them, and special praise is due to Dr. Prichett, who made a lasting impression upon his hearers and who, we think, is one of the most able and most foremost thinkers of the nation.

We are proud of our new library.

Let us use it to the best advantage and ever thank its bounteous donor and the man who procured it for us.

SAYRE NOTES.

Miss Margaret Steele was at her home, near Nicholasville, from Friday until Monday.

Miss Katherine Logan spent the week end with Misses Sara and Ann T. Jame at their country home "Walnut Lawn."

Miss Sue Payne spent Thursday night at the College. She came to be present at the initiation of Miss Mattie Bohannon into the Lambda Alpha Lambda Sorority.

Tuesday afternoon there will be a basket ball game at three o'clock in the gymnasium. The Seniors and Juniors will play against each other and the Sophomores and Freshmen.

Misses Patsy Hoyal and Jesse Grant visited Misses Bonnie and Lezette Gibbons, at their home in Winchester, from Friday until Monday.

CAMPBELL-HAGERMAN COLLEGE

The following parents visited their daughters here, Mrs. Home, of Hutchinson, Rev. Stafford, of Frankfort and Dr. Price, of Madison.

Misses Leona Davis and Katherine Pitman spent Sunday at their homes, in Madison.

Miss Helen Van Meter is visiting her parents, at Paducah.

Miss Helen Crawford was the hostess at a birthday feast Friday. The exact age is not known of course. The Alpha Epsilon Sorority and several other friends were present.

Mr. Duff is with relatives in Tennessee.

TO WORDSWORTH.

Annie Louise Dean.
Great poet of the woods and fields—
Interpreter of Nature's heart!
To thee a springing flower reveals
A world of mystery and art;

From every mountain, brook, or tree,
From every clinging shrub or vine,
A gentle whisper speaks to thee
A message clear of truth divine.

Thou tender heart so full of love!
The beauty, color, joy of earth,
The common clod, the sky above
To sympathy have given birth.
With highland maid, so free and wild,
With humble shepherd's saddest mood,
With wicked man or simple child,
Thou hast a sense of brotherhood.

TO PUT IT OVER PA.

Father is at last to have a champion. Father has hitherto been regarded as a heartless person whose only desire was to make it unpleasant for other members of the family. He has been held up to ridicule for his lack of good manners, he has been hated because he insisted on insulting sister's beau; he has been pitied because he lacked the knowledge possessed by Brother Will, who is a college freshman, and he has forfeited reverence owing to his inability to make his income keep pace with the wants of the family. Father has suffered long and worked hard and been misunderstood, hence it is with a sense of gratification that we learn of the appearance in Kansas of a man who is going to shape a pedestal and set Father on it. The protagonist of glorious fatherhood is Samuel Francis Woolard of Wichita, and he offers to pay people for saying the best that may be said for father. Here is a list of the prizes—which Mr. Woolard proposes to award to those who have good words for father. For the best sentiment, either in verse, limited to forty lines, or in prose limited to 400 words, $100 in each cash; second best, $50; third, $25; fourth, $15; fifth, $10—all to be original and never published. Let it be hoped that through the efforts of Mr. Woolard we may learn not what is the matter with dad, but what isn't the matter with him—if William Allen White has not already attended to the matter.

MECHANICAL HALL.

As usual the Mechanical Hall is the busiest place on the campus. This is not said in a boastful manner, but is said because it is a fact, and had better be said than kept secret.

The usual class work is going on, as is also the rope work. The handles for the flags, to be used at the football game this evening were made in the wood shop. In the machine shop the pipes for Haggin's barn, are being bent into proper shape. The steam and electrical laboratories are in operation.

The ladies' brass beating class meets each week in the machine shop, and judging from the noise they make, they certainly do a lot of work.

The hall is always open to visitors for inspection. Those students who have not been through the hall would do well to do so in the near future and find out for themselves what is going on.

SENIOR LOGIC

The class in Senior logic is progressing finely. We have all delivered into the mysteries of thinking and find it rather hard to do. It's a novel substance.

Prof. Mackenzie compliments (?) the class, all the time, and tells them they may be better than some he has had.

Never mind Sandy we will learn pretty soon and be able to prove the whichness of it and then reduce it to Bokardo.

We note the following from the Vanderbilt Hustler:

"Elsewhere in this issue will be found an article giving Coach McGugin's plan for post-season football between the classes, including two preliminary games and one final between the winners to determine the class championship with which goes a beautiful trophy cup offered by the coach to the winner of the series."

If this be true why should not Vanderbilt receive a challenge from Ky. State for a post-season game at Lexington?

Minnesota's faithful rooters watched the score-board in heavy rain for the returns of the Minnesota-Wisconsin game.

The end of the trouble at the University originating in the suspension of seven sophomores on the charge of breaking the anti-hazing pledge is believed to be in sight. After being on strike for a week the 600 students went back to their studies with the understanding that the matter would be reviewed by the board of trustees at the monthly session.

Friday, Hon. Charles E. Oak of Bangor, a prominent alumnus, addressed a mass meeting after chapel, at which he said that he was in a position where he could assure the students, although not positively, that the faculty would recede from their position, inasmuch as the suspended sophomores would be reinstated with an equitable allowance for lost time during good behavior, and that the faculty would also make specific definition of the term "hazing" over which the trouble appears to have originated. Mr. Oak asked the students to pledge themselves to this agreement, also to resume the college custom of rising when the president of the university entered chapel, a custom which has been dropped recently. The students, after considerable discussion, voted almost unanimously to accept the proposition if presented on the terms outlined by Mr. Oak. It is generally understood that the trustees will take no special action, but will leave the matter to be settled if possible by the faculty.

ROBERT LAUNITZ LOWE DEAD.

Former Editor-in-Chief of Pennsylvania Expires From Heart Disease.

Robert Launitz Lowe, '08, a member of the Beta Theta Phi Fraternity, and Editor-in-Chief of the Pennsylvania his graduating year, died at an early hour yesterday, at the General Hospital, where he has been a patient for two weeks from nervous prostration, occasioned by overwork, and a weak heart, with which he had been afflicted from childhood.

Lowe, 25 years old, was born in New Brunswick, N. J., and early gave promises of a journalist in editing the "Red and White," published by the Battin High School, from which

In order to get better acquainted, the Y. W. C. A. at Colorado has weekly candy parties.

Wisconsin has a new song composed to the tune of "My Wife's Gone to the Country."

Mrs. A. D. Windship, of Racine, Wis., aged 79 years, has entered Ohio Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, will speak before the Illinois students next Monday evening.

Columbia University will receive $4,500,000 from the estate of the late John Stewart Kennedy.

The University of Michigan is the oldest of the larger state universities being founded in 1837.

By a faculty ruling at Northwestern all social functions must be in the gymnasium hereafter.

Cornell is trying out a new song, "Cornell, I Yell Cornell," which, if it proves worthy, will be used for the first time at the Cornell-Pennsylvania game.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 2.—Announcement was made today by the faculty of St. Thomas de Aquinas college that the football schedule for the remainder of the season had been canceled, owing to the number of fatal accidents which have occurred. It was also stated that the college would not be represented by another eleven until the game is modified.

The government has invented a machine which smokes cigars—four at a time. It will be used in the government laboratories to determine which tobaccos are best for fillers of cigars, which for binders and which for wrappers. This is a direct governmental slap at higher education. Are machines to take all the places that might be filled by college men?
—Butler Collegian.

The University of Washington Daily is to have correspondents in every high school in the state, and in every college and university on the coast.

Two important characters in the cast of the Junior Play at the University of Washington were kidnapped by some clever Seniors on the eve of the performance, and as a result the play has been postponed until the missing members are found.

Five Sophomores and four Freshmen of the University of Washington received a public duckling as a punishment for non-participation in the class fights.

The Harvard Athletic Association has, this year, adopted a new method of selling tickets for big games. No tickets may be applied for except by graduates or undergraduates, and not more than one application will be allowed to each man.

Cornell's Aero Club now has a membership of over 100 students, and efforts are being made to raise enough funds for a building a heavier-than-air machine. Several professors from the Engineering School are helping to boom the movement.

The Naval Academy may send a team to the intercollegiate field and track meet at New York on May 28. The date is convenient to the midshipmen, as annual examinations are over and graduation week not begun. The Navy contingent is particularly anxious to have Carr, who has done 9 4-5 in the 100-yard several times, run against the crack college sprinters. Superintendent Bowyer is a strong advocate of athletics and may favor the proposition.

Lives of seniors oft remind us
That we should never make a flunk;
Work ye then while ye are freshmen,
Or as seniors you'll be punk.

The University of Purdue is making tests in the intensity and brilliancy of illumination of railway headlights. These tests are being conducted on the "Big Four" tracks.

Indiana's athletic budget for 1908-9 shows a deficit of $1,000.

Lookahill, the famous giant center of Indiana's '08 squal, died last week of ptomaine poisoning.

No form of exercise is more beneficial, both to mind and body, than cross-country running.—"Umpire."

The Seniors at Ohio Wesleyan, in order to avoid the frequent wearing of the traditional cap and gown, have decreed that the same shall be worn only when two-thirds of the class so elect.

The construction of another of New York's great tunnels in the subway rapid transit system was begun recently in Brooklyn. It is the Fourth avenue subway, which will cross the new Manhattan bridge to Brooklyn and then proceed through Fourth avenue to South Brooklyn. Extensions will later be built to Coney Island.

The following is a list of nine of the country's largest colleges and universities, their total registration in 1908, and their endowments as they exist to date:

A thousand Iowa University students celebrating the foot ball victory of Iowa over Ames, stormed the Coldren theater and were ejected by the police. They stoned the building, breaking a number of windows. One student's face was split open by a policeman's club.

Purdue and Indiana Universities have each charged the other with having professional players, and as a result Indiana has lost Cartwright, and Purdue, Shade. Both of these men played in the backfield.

Registration at University of Pennsylvania has reached the 5,000 mark.

At the University of Washington

the faculty's Men's Club has opened a dining room.

Minnesota conducts a "model school," at which cooking for boys is a feature.

Ma—Tommy, quit eating those preserves. I merely put them on the table to fill up.

Tommy—Well, that's what I'm using 'em for.—Depaw Daily.

While girl students of Northwestern University were engaged in eating their dinners recently, burglars entered their rooms in Willard Hall, and carried away money, watches, bracelets and additional articles of jewelry to the value of $1,000.

ALL COME TO NEVILLE DANCE.

Princeton's game defense was ineffectual against the crashing attack of the Blue eleven. Score of 17 to 0 indicates strength of Yale's team.

Miss Muriel Culp, member of the Masque Club of the University of Kansas, has written an original farce entitled "Dad and the Frats," which has received favorable criticism and is to be produced early in December. The play is full of college atmosphere and its complications center around "Tommy" Johnson, the Kansas quarterback, who was responsible for Kansas' victory over Nebraska.
